TOP MILITARY LEADERS OF SYRIA AND EGYPT HOLDING EMERGENCY CONFERENCES

Cairo (P)—Syria's top military leader held urgent talks with President Nasser and other Egyptian officials today and declared defiantly Syria is prepared to meet all "imperialistic conspiracies."

"Every Syrian national is prepared to shed his blood for the sake of preserving his country's independence," Gen. Afif Bizry, Leftist commander in chief of the Syrian army, said in an interview with the newspaper Al Ahran.

"Syria is now fortified against all imperialistic conspiracies and the people and the army are united in one front."

Bizry and Lt. Col. Abdel Hamid Serraj, Syrian army intelligence chief, arrived yesterday on a surprise visit that underlined the deepening concern of the two Arab allies over the Syrian crisis.

Asked to comment on charges that the U. S. government is seeking to overthrow Syria's regime, Bizry said: "Americans do not only limit their adventures to movies, but they also yield to them in normal life, imagining that a dollar can do anything. They forget that this dollar has no place in a land of honor and dignity."

Bizry and Serraj went into conference with Nasser and Egyptian military leaders on their arrival here.

Informed sources said the talks continued into the early morning.

As they met, Syria's Acting Defense Minister Khaled Azem said in Damascus he does not believe aggression against Syria is imminent. But he added that Syria has taken "all defensive measures to take every possibility."

Azem talked with reporters after a Cabinet session devoted to what an official statement called "development of the situation in the light of the Soviet and American foreign ministers' statements on Syria."

"They referred to the warning to Turkey and the West by the Soviet Union's Andrei Gromyko against any military moves on Syria and to Secretary of State Dulles' view of the Soviet Union's Andrei Gromyko against settled without war."

Premier Adnan Menderes hastened to the stricken villages today, and himself became stranded for a time by blocked highways.

The downpour hit an area extending from Ankara's suburbs to a village about 30 miles southeast.

Ankara, Turkey, (P)—Turkish newspapers said today 1,000 persons died in flash floods which swept through the crooked streets of seven villages on the outskirts of this capital yesterday. But the official death toll remained at 14, the number of bodies which rescue workers have recovered.

In some areas the flood wave reached 90 feet as water from cloudbursts rushed down narrow valleys from barren mountain slopes. Rescue teams groped through the muddy rains, seeking victims of the floodwaters which swept into Ankara itself, covering low-lying areas and stalling traffic.

An estimated 500 to 1,000 homes had been destroyed and more than 2,000 flooded.

Fire Drill at High School Is Successful

In the first fire drill of the 1957-58 school year at Warren High School, all students left the building this morning in two minutes and ten seconds. This was but three seconds more than the two minute and seven second record established last school year, when the third floor was not in use.

Joseph Passaro, high school principal, complimented all students over the loud speaker system for their cooperation in following the exact directions given for the exit.

Featuring the drill was the first real use of the new tubular fire escape for the boys from the third floor.

Expect Assembly To Condemn Soviet Acts In Hungary

United Nations, N. Y. (P)—Informed delegates predicted today the U. N. General Assembly will adopt a resolution condemning Soviet interference in Hungary late tomorrow.

They said that 50 or 55 of the 81 U. N. members would vote for the resolution, only the nine-nation Soviet bloc would vote against it and that 17 to 22 would abstain.

That would give the approval of well over the necessary two-thirds of those voting—but less than the average of about 57 votes cast for the Assembly's 10 previous resolutions on Hungary.

Some delegates said there would be more abstentions this time because sponsors refused to eliminate a sentence saying the Assembly condemns the Soviet Union's acts in Hungary and its continued defiance of earlier resolutions calling on Russian troops to withdraw.

The pending resolution also would ask Prince Wan Waihayakon of Thailand, Assembly president, to serve as the Assembly's special representative on the Hungarian problem and "take such steps as he deems appropriate."

One aim is to force Soviet troops that crushed the popular uprising in Hungary last fall to go home. Another aim is the establishment of political independence in Hungary.

The resolution endorses a report from the Assembly's special committee on Hungary finding that massive Soviet armed intervention put down a spontaneous national uprising.

Interparliamentary Union Conference Opens in London

London (P)—A group of U. S. lawmakers said today they expect Communist spokesmen to try to gain a propaganda victory out of the violence connected with the integration of Southern schools in the United States.

They said they were ready to battle the Reds on the issue at the 48th conference of the Interparliamentary Union which convened here today.

The American legislators—10 senators and 14 representatives—are among delegations from 46 nations, including the Soviet Union, attending the conference. The union was founded in 1889 to promote international good will.

Queen Elizabeth opened the conference with the full pageantry of a British state occasion in ancient Westminster Hall, to which the first British Parliament was summoned 700 years ago.

The speech, written under the guidance of government ministers, brought nods of approval from Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. The Queen, accompanied by Prince Philip, interrupted her Scottish holiday to open the meeting.

Now Appears Hurricane Carrie Will Miss Coast

Miami, Fla. (P)—Hurricane Carrie probably will miss the U. S. mainland entirely and die far out in the Atlantic, forecasters said today.

The season's third tropical storm was about 940 miles east-northeast of San Juan, P. R. and about 1,900 miles east and a little south of Miami.

It had winds up to 90 miles an hour.

The Miami Weather Bureau noted that the storm was spreading slightly, a characteristic of tropical storms as they move north. An advisory at 5 a. m., EST said no important change in intensity was expected during the following 12 hours.

President Plans Conference With Gov. Faubus on School Situation Saturday

Phone Service Interruption Is Not Expected

New York (P)—A spokesman for the Western Electric Co. says he sees a strong possibility that negotiations today with telephone equipment installers will lead to agreement and avert a nationwide strike set for Monday.

In Washington yesterday, Joseph A. Beirne, president of the Communications Workers of America, announced that 54,000 CWA members would walk off their jobs at 6 a. m. (local time) Monday in all states except Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire. Also affected would be the District of Columbia.

In New York last night a spokesman for WE, manufacturing arm of the Bell Telephone System, said at the end of a negotiations session:

"The union indicated a strong possibility of a break in the deadlock tomorrow, at the resumption of bargaining."

Beirne, in setting a date for the strike, expressed hope the contract dispute could be settled before the deadline.

Beirne said that, in event of a strike, picketing of exchanges in major cities would keep about 146,000 other telephone workers, including operators, from their jobs.

The union has been working without a contract since Aug. 26.

CWA workers make and install telephone office equipment. A strike would have little immediate effect on local telephone service in communities with dial systems, except in event of equipment breakdown. A walkout probably could cripple long-distance phoning.

The dispute centers mainly over wages and length of a new contract.

Good Gasser Drilled in On Property in DuBois

DuBois (P)—A gas well on city-owned property in the Anderson Creek Watershed is producing at between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 cubic feet per day.

Earl Altman, supervisor of the Central Division of New York State Natural Gas Co., said the flow was increased from 174,000 cubic feet to its present flow by hydro-fracturing.

Hydro-fracturing is a process in which water is used to increase pressure. Altman said the well was hydro-fractured Monday, but there is still considerable water blow-back to make an accurate gauge of the flow.

The well was drilled in at 7,348 feet two weeks ago. City and gas company officials plan to drill another well on the site.

Gates Opened to First Of 60,000 Immigrants

Washington (P)—The United States opens its gates today to the first of more than 60,000 immigrants made eligible for admission under a new law.

President Eisenhower signed the new immigration bill into law yesterday.

In various parts of the world, U. S. consular offices were set to begin processing visas under the program designed to ease some of the hardships growing out of the nation's immigration laws.

An estimated 62,556 additional immigrants will be eligible for admission to the United States, State Department officials said.

Initial Survey Work Is Under Way on the Keystone Shortway

Harrisburg (P)—The State Highways Department said today initial survey work has begun on parts of the proposed 290-mile Keystone Shortway between Sharon and Stroudsburg.

Richard Harris, assistant chief engineer in the Planning Division, said the work was started by Michael Baker Jr., Rochester, Pa., and Buchart Engineering Co., York. Both are consulting engineers.

Harris said each of the firms is handling a section of the proposed roadway about 80 miles long. Baker surveying from the eastmost point and Buchart from the western tip of the proposed roadway. He said the surveying will be done in a "piecemeal manner" which he explained was normal practice in most projects.

A department spokesman said the two firms officially were named engineers on the project today.

The spokesman said the action is the first step in setting up a federal aid highway project. The proposed shortway would be constructed as part of the federal interstate highways system.

The federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost of such projects. Under the plan, according to the department, the first step is to approve a location for the route. The next step would be the design and the actual construction.

Award of the contracts to the consulting firms was not made on a competitive bidding basis. The spokesman said the law stipulates competitive bidding is necessary only on the final phases of highway construction projects.

No fee for the initial surveys was announced.

Stormy Figure In New York Politics Takes His Own Life

New York (P)—Clendennin J. Ryan, 50-year-old millionaire reformer and stormy figure in New York politics in recent years, shot and killed himself today at his Manhattan home.

Police said he took his life with an automatic pistol.

Ryan's wife, Jean, told officers that while she was in her bedroom about 7:30 a. m., she heard a noise but didn't know what it was. About 10 minutes later, she said, she went to the bathroom and found her husband shot. The Ryan home is at 32 E. 70th St.

Ryan was a grandson of the financier Thomas Fortune Ryan and inherited part of the financier's 140-million-dollar estate.

Ryan took a keen interest in New York City politics, beginning with the race for mayor of Fiorello H. La Guardia in 1933. He went on to serve in the La Guardia administration in various capacities.

After La Guardia's long tenure, Ryan jumped back in to politics again with a bitter campaign against William O'Dwyer, who was elected successor to La Guardia.

Matter Of Fact

How It Ended

By JOSEPH ALSOP

Poznan, Poland—It is something of an experience to introduce the American technique of political polling behind the famous iron curtain. At the outset, one even feels a certain trepidation. But this reporter can now testify that the experience is both fruitful and heartwarming.

I wanted to find out, very simply now it had ended for the men who really started the great change in Poland. So I went out, polier's notebook in hand, to Poznan's Czechoslovakia. Here there is the workers' housing of the Gogelski steel plant, where the heroic Poznan strike began in June a year ago.

By local standards Czechoslovakia is not a bad place. It commen and women kneel on the bare ground.

Thus the poliers must write down Czechoslovakia as a district of devoutly Catholic skilled workers. This is the group to be opinion-tested here. But as one enters the first building and presses the first doorbell, doubts creep in about the planned opinion test. After all, vagrant pollsters are too often greeted with profound suspicion in free America and here in Poland, we are in a still-Communist country which was also a brutal police state until less than a year ago.

Promptly, the door is opened by a large, solid, elderly man with that air of quiet dignity one often finds in older hand workers confident of their own skill. Behind him, there is a workman but neat middle-aged woman. After the strange visit is explained, both break into amiably hospitable smiles. They show the way to the little dining room-living room-children's bedroom, with its religious pictures, its poor ornaments, its tidy cribs, and its pile of onions from the garden allotment lying in the corner.

As is only fitting, the master of the house leads the conversation with the housewife acting as chorus. He has worked in the Gogelski plant over 30 years. Before the war, he was a Social Democrat. He joined the strikers in June a year ago—"For how could I stand aside when my comrades went into the streets?"

It was a funny business, certainly, that strike, for they had no real hope when it began. It was a gesture of despair, you might say. But they were wrong to despair. "Since October"—that phrase one hears a hundred times a day in the new Poland—since Wladyslaw Gomulka came to power, everything has been different.

"It isn't so much the money," says the master of the house, "although I am getting a bit more money now."

"All the same," interjects the housewife briskly, "the extra mon-

Franklin Attempts to Bolster
School Football Spirit; Votes
Free Admissions For Students

Franklin Area School Directors, in an unprecedented move this week, voted unanimously to allow the school's junior-senior high students free admission to all home football games.

The News Herald article, telling of the action, says Dr. John W. Bailey, past president of the joint district and a Franklin director, initiated the plan "as a means of bolstering school spirit."

He suggested that a special student pass be issued and that a student section be reserved in the bleachers at Miller-Sibley field for the high school students.

He said he felt more parents and other "paying customers" would attend the games if the junior-senior group were allowed in free. He indicated he felt the plan would be a positive step in raising the morale and spirit of the school.

In quizzing school officials, it was determined about $500 in revenue realized from the sale of student football tickets would be lost. The board agreed they could afford to subsidize the program to make up for any loss of this nature.

"We can just barely break even on our sports," Dr. John R. Hau- bert, superintendent of schools, pointed out. He estimated that stu- dents spent about $1,000 per year on the two major sports, football and basketball.

It was agreed the free admission policy would not be adaptable for basketball games since the seating capacity would not be sufficient.

Dr. Haubert agreed with the action taken by the board on free admissions to the home football games, indicating he felt the sport should be designed and played "for the students."

Athletic Committee Member Clark Wolfkiel stated he felt his committee was not "Aiming at nine out of nine football games. We hope we are building men up there on the hill as well as trying to win football games," he added.

Dr. Haubert said he felt a "happy medium" could be struck be- tween emphasis on athletic pro- grams and activities and the scholastic affairs of the school.

It was agreed to have non-trans- ferable tickets printed for the ju- nior-senior students and to provide that a student loaning his ticket to an outsider would lose his ticket privileges if caught.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

New York (AP)—Are you one of those people who want to beat inflation but don't know how?

President Eisenhower has de- nounced inflation as our greatest domestic problem, a sure sign that it is no longer popular in all quarters.

But what can be done about it? The classical economists urge a general tightening of belts. But this would result only in everyone going around with a stomachache—or a broken belt.

The surest cure for inflation is to reduce unnecessary expenses. This doesn't mean you should cut down on life's utter necessities, such as your daily ration or tran- quizers or a bottle of champagne every time your wife wants to celebrate a golden wedding anni- versary. It means you should avoid those small needless drains that fritter away your income.

Remember, a nickel saved—even in inflation times—is still a penny gained.

Here are a few tested tips on how to make your money last longer and go farther.

1. Avoid colds. Nothing wears out handkerchiefs like a heavy cold.

2. Carry around a lot of $2 bills. Sooner or later a cashier will mis- take one for a $5 bill, and you'll be $3 ahead every time this hap- pens.

3. When you go to the movies, pop your corn at home and bring it along. You'll find do-it-yourself popcorn tastes much better than mechanized popcorn turned out in great quantities by an impersonal, soulless machine.

4. Do you know a traveling salesman? Have him bring back free stationery, hotel soap and towels.

5. When you mail checks to pay your bills, omit stamps from the envelopes. Let the firm that is getting your money pay the post- age.

6. Of medical expenses getting you down, borrow pills from the guys in your office. Sooner or later you'll find a man with the same ailment you have. Another ad- vantage: By taking pills indiscrimi- nately you may be curing some- thing that's wrong with you that you don't even know about.

7. Leave your own car in the garage more. Start riding to work with your neighbor. If after a month or so, he suggests it's your turn to buy the gas, cut the churl dead. Ride with another neighbor.

8. Never buy your own salt, pep- per or sugar cubes. All of these items are available free at the restaurant where you lunch. Fill your pockets. Another suggestion: Never order soup at a restaurant. Simply ask the waiter to bring you a cup of hot water for your ulcer. Then pour in bottled ketch- up, stir well—and you have a won- derful tomato soup for nothing.

9. Now and then break out a nourishing can of dog food and share it with Rover. This has a double advantage. It will reduce your meat bill, and Rover, seeing you eat the stuff himself, will quit growling about the quality of his chow.

10. Have you been giving your old clothes to the Salvation Army for years? Well, how about drop- ping into the nearest Salvation Army shelter and asking them, "What have you got for me this year?"

11. Never throw away your old shoes without first removing the Inflation? Let the worry waits fret it out.

The fellow who really knows, how to live ought to save so much dough during an inflation he'll find it necessary to buy a money shredder to get rid of all that green stuff piling up in his house; so fast he can't spend it, or burn it with matches.

OFF-YEAR STRUGGLES

Important meetings in Warren Monday and Tuesday attended by top officers of the Republican State Committee and the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women, remind that next year 34 governorships will be on the block, and the struggle to win them, including the one in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, may command more attention from national party leaders than the contest for control of Congress.

There are a number of reasons why.

Foremost is the fact that normally the control of state governmental machinery, with all that means in jobs, publicity and other benefits, gives a party substantial advantage in pressing the cause of its presidential nominee, as must be done again in 1960.

Secondly, successful governors are a prime source of presidential material. Often they are glamorous figures and the good things they do are widely known. Word of their failures, of the toes they step on, seldom travels far beyond their state borders.

On the other hand, senators, being recorded on one vote after another in the Washington goldfish bowl, make practically a business of alienating one group or another. Thus they have marked handicaps when it comes to swaying a majority of convention delegates.

For a third thing, when a party is represented by a large number of governors, its national convention delegations usually are more firmly guided and the conventions more disciplined and orderly—a condition politicians just naturally favor.

In 1958 the 34 governorships at stake will include 21 now held by Democrats and 13 in GOP hands. The Democratic goal will be to hold and widen this edge if possible, while Republicans will be out to take back the advantage they lost in the big turnover of 1954.

The coming battle is heightened by the fact that New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Connecticut are among the 21 governorships now Democratic, while California and Ohio are on the list of 13 presently in GOP control.

Hence the prizes are big, and the potential impact on the 1960 presidential contest could be very heavy.

With prospects of their seizing Congress none too bright, Republicans will be very much on the aggressive in the governorship matches, not only in the big states but in such usually Republican but now Democratic reaches as Maine, Iowa, Kansas and Oregon.

Consequently, whatever happens in the congressional races, the items on the barrel head in the governorship field make it certain that the 1958 elections will be lively, hard-fought affairs.

NEW YMCA OFFICIAL

The community will be happy to welcome Julius L. Thorn, native of Vincennes, Ind., who is arriving early in October from his home at Indianapolis, Ind., to take over the post recently vacated by the popular Dan K. Walton, as executive secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association in Warren. It is interesting to note among other activities, that Mr. Thorn has been an elder in Central Christian church, has been president of Rotary clubs in at least two communities where he has resided, has Masonic affiliations, and was one of forty YMCA secretaries in the USA and Canada to participate in the United Nations Seminar last year.

For the information of those who may be acquainted with the fact the meeting of the Coneywango Township supervisors will be held next Monday evening when there will be a discussion on three ordinances one of which provides for the regulating of littering, loitering, peddling, etc., in the office of Justice of the Peace Fred Berry at Starbrick. At the same time ordinances will be considered on the subject of creating a township planning commission and police pension plan.

Attention of art lovers is called to the interesting exhibit of paintings which opened today and will continue through Saturday at the Blomquist Furniture store in North Warren. The public is cordially invited to attend.

F. Visser't Hooft, Jr., promotion director, for Civic Attractions, Inc., 703 Main street, at Tupper, Buffalo, 3, N. Y., sends a reminder which says the Ice Capades Fabulous 18th edition is coming to Buffalo Memorial Auditorium September 18, through 24th, in conjunction with Buffalo's 125th anniversary "World Port Celebration". This year John H. Harris presents "Six Great Shows in One" Car-men, Madame Butterfly, Salute to George Gershwin, Walt Disney's Fantasia as interpreted from the Nutcracker Suite, the Bavarian Schuhplattlers, and a look into the future. Jet 300 minutes Hollywood to Broadway Here is a great mix from the past and present. Here are champions galore Olympic stars, Ronnie Robertson and Cathy Machado, the Old Smoothies, Adagio Dancers Romaine and Steele, the versatile Bobby Specht, Helga from Germany, Spanish and Bavarian dancers and the exacting precision skating of the Ice Capades and Ice Cadets. Incidentally, because of the early scheduling of the Ice Capades, the Warren City Lanes management is planning to run but one special bus to Buffalo, and that will be on Saturday, September 21, reservations for which are already being accepted on a first-come-first-served proposition.

Maurice K. Goddard, secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters, has announced availability of a new official Stream Map of the Commonwealth. This 60" by 40" detailed map of all streams and bodies of water in Pennsylvania had been out of print for many years. Of great value to sportsmen, civic organizations and conservation groups, the new Stream Map shows locations of all streams, lakes, State Parks and dams throughout the Commonwealth. Preparing the multiplicity of detail in developing this up-to-date special map has been the responsibility of the Water and Power Resources Board, an affiliate agency of the Department of Forests and Waters.

Waters Map distribution will be made through the Division of Documents, Department of Property and Supplies, 10th and Market Streets, Harrisburg. A charge of twenty-five (25c) cents in coin or money order is established for each map.

An interesting visitor to the editorial rooms the other day was a young Armenian student at Temple University, Philadelphia, George Mooradian. He stopped in the office on a tour of the state visiting editors of daily papers in all county seats, and according to a map that he carries in his brief case, has his tour about one-third completed. He says he is working on a political thesis that must be finished some time during the 1958-59 term. The interesting young man says that he is a graduate of Dickinson College, also the Temple University Law School. He plans to enter Temple Graduate School this fall for his Masters Degree in Political Science. His tour of the state interviewing editors of dailies in county seats was planned as a vacation activity, and according to Mooradian the trip is proving both profitable and entertaining. His interviews have provided him with a wealth of information that could prove of value to top leaders of both major political parties in the state, especially as regards to the important campaigns that are coming up next year. George has his own ideas about who the top candidates may be, for governor and United States Senate. He was particularly interested in the fact that a district Republican meeting was being held in Warren, with the State Chairman and top associates in attendance.

Many in the area will be interested in the announcement that W. R. Huber, director of public relations for Gulf Oil Corp., Pittsburgh, has been appointed director of the Petroleum Industry's Centennial Celebration in 1959. Announcement of the appointment was made by Frank M. Porter, president of the American Petroleum Institute, from his New York City office. Mr. Huber, who has been given leave of absence by Gulf to accept this assignment, will have offices at Institute headquarters in New York City. The Centennial, to be observed throughout 1959 commemorates the one-hundredth anniversary of the drilling of the first commercial oil well in the United States at Titusville in August, 1859. "Committees representing the oil industry have been at work for more than a year developing plans for the Centennial," Mr. Porter said. "Ideas and suggestions have been reviewed by the Committee on Centennial Program, and by a working committee composed of oil industry public relations executives. Mr. Huber will serve as chief executive officer of the working committee in all aspects of the Centennial program."

Bailey-Crippen Rites In California Chapel

Youngsville — Before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli and lighted candles in Arnold Heights Chapel, near March Air Force Base in California, two well known local young people were wed on August 10.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 7:00 p. m. by the Rev. Henry J. Shepherd who united in marriage Patti Crippen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Crippen, and Jack Bailey, son of Mrs. Marian Bailey.

The bride chose a white tulle crepe sheath, with chiffon collar ending in a back drape. Her head bandeau was also of white and her flowers were a white orchid shoulder corsage.

Her only attendant was Mr. Bailey's sister, Susan, who wore beige glazed cotton, white picture hat and pink carnation corsage.

Editor Times-Mirror

Warren, Pa.

Dear Sir:

I am hastening a word of appreciation of my stay in this area—in Pennsylvania where I have in the past spent the most vibrant years of my life ministering to the Youth and Children of Northwest Pennsylvania. I have been absent for the last few years—my work being centered in the Midwest—particularly in the city of Chicago. I had the privilege of attending the Passion Play at the Beatty High School last night. I especially sensed the service that your city leaders had rendered to the citizens of Warren and the surrounding towns. I am impressed with the effort made to bring the best to your community. It is unusual to say the least. When traveling in the past throughout this area I always approached Warren with a special sense of satisfaction, considering it one of the most representative and attractive communities on the map. Being a native daughter of Pennsylvania you can better understand why I have a special interest in the best interests of the State.

My interest reaches farther, however than in the mere physical attractions of the State. What I am most heartily interested in is the moral and spiritual excellence of our citizens which is something far superior to our best natural qualifications. For that reason I am sincerely desirous that we fully appreciate the meaning of the Passion Play shown so recently in your midst.

May we draw attention to the fact that this exposure of the suffering of the Son of God carries some significant obligations to every one of us. If the Innocent Son of God could suffer such ignominy and shame, even death itself what responsibility rests upon us as His creatures to likewise sacrifice for the good of others, our nation and particularly the rising generation of the millions of children and youth that have a right to demand that we give them that heritage of decent living and example of vital Godliness so essential to the building of character—Certainly it is no optional matter on our part but a grim necessity. To fail will bring the same lasting destruction that came to the false leaders of the Jewish Nation. It is too bad that time didn't permit a more revealing account of what happened to that Jewish Nation as the result of their rejection of the Son of God. It is well to bring facts to mind and realize that when the Master sat on the city wall of Jerusalem he predicted that because they did not know the Day of their Visitation that their city was left unto them desolate. And exactly forty years after the Crucifixion the city did run with blood and a most frightful destruction of the city took place. But are we better than they? Nay, verily—Art we not crucifying afresh the Son of God as we fail to properly evaluate the obligations and responsibilities resting upon us? When the one wrote that what Warren needed was a revival of true repentance, and turning to God if Warren was to be saved is equally true of the entire nation—AMERICA IS AT THE CROSSROADS . . . OUR DAY OF GOD'S VISITATION IS PAST HASTENING TO A CLOSE. Our Character quotient is low. If this generation is to be saved we must hie us forth to higher spiritual and moral levels. Being a woman I am especially apprehensive as I feel the character fabric of American Womanhood being so subtly destroyed. "The Hand that rocks the cradle rules the World!" May we alert our wonderful God-given heritage in these crises days.

Sincerely,
Miss Mable Hicks

"SQUIBBLY" STORY

Reception of radio station WMGW, Meadville, caused some listeners to wonder whether squirrels might be fooling around with the microphone. An Associated Press dispatch says it turned out that squirrels were responsible for interference noted the past few days. Station Manager James Strickler said the disturbance was traced to a pair of squirrels which had chewed into a transmitter cable, allowing rain to seep in. The station had a similar problem last June when a black snake crawled into the transmitter and was electrocuted, causing a short circuit.

Ordinance Banning Peddling Is Protested by Girl Scouts

Urging repeal of the ordinance prohibiting door-to-door selling in the borough, Ursula M. Johnson, executive director of the Warren-Forest Council Girl Scouts, Inc., has sent the following appeal to Burgess W. E. Rice:

"Warren, Pa., Sept. 11, 1957.

"Burgess William E. Rice

"Municipal Building

"Warren, Penna.

"Dear Mr. Rice:

"The ordinance passed by Warren Borough Council at its August meeting prohibiting door-to-door selling, is very disturbing to the Board of Directors and Finance Committee of the Warren-Forest Council of Girl Scouts. It must be known to members of Council that a substantial portion of our annual income is derived from our two Council sponsored projects—the selling of mixed nuts before the Thanksgiving and Christmas Holidays and cookies in the Spring.

"If we should be prohibited from continuing these projects of many years standing, it will be necessary for us to request further and additional financial assistance from the Warren Community Chest.

Furthermore, the income derived from selling nuts and cookies is shared with neighborhood troops for the promotion of their own programs.

"It is our opinion that Scouts should be trained to obey Community laws. Such an ordinance would place upon us no alternative than to discontinue the sales.

"We believe the residents honor and respect Girl Scout principles and welcome these annual opportunities to financially support the organization through these two selling efforts. We try to help the Community and the girls who live here.

"We would strongly urge that the ordinance be repealed.

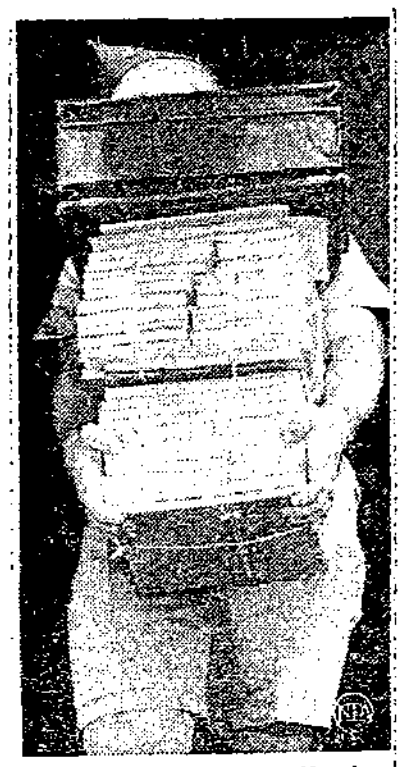

"Sincerely,

"Ursula M. Johnson,

"Executive Director"

A LONG with new patterns, news in carpeting this fall will record the revival of interest in room-sized rugs. For the past few years, "wall to wall" and "area rugs" have captured chief attention and the good old nine-by-twelve has taken a back seat.

To the bride shopping for her first rug or to the homemaker whose family has walked through their second, this will mean bigger and better selections of room-sized rugs in the stores. And there will be stronger incentives to invest in one of them.

furniture group to be underscored completely. That holds it together visually.

In choosing a rug for a dining room, pick one large enough so that chair legs will be within the edges even when chairs are pushed back from the table.

Area rugs have grown up to room-size dimensions, too. Besides cut pieces of broadloom carpeting, there are those with borders, center motifs and fringe; they can be rectangular, oval or round.

A PRONOUNCED trend in carpet styling is toward the abstract texture or that which is almost a pattern but without a clearly defined motif. These are different from tweed textures but serve a similar practical purpose.

Designs are executed with several levels of texture, with shades of the same color in a monochromatic scheme, or with bright dots of color on neutral grounds. The overall effect may suggest rounded forms—traditional in feeling—or geometric forms usually more modern in feeling.

This styling is beamed particularly at rooms which see a lot of traffic and active family living. Signs of wear are easily concealed.

The trend in color continues toward the lighter and brighter. There are more blues—powder, peacock and periwinkle, rose and lavender. The popular beige-brown shades are augmented by copper, tangerine and gold.

ANY CARPET can be a rug. The term "rug" means a carpet of a given size. The familiar minimum of a room-sized rug is the 9 feet by 12 feet, but it could be any dimension. The most common widths are the standard 9, 12, 15 or even 18 feet because no trimming or binding is involved.

If you are in the market for new floor covering, you'll be interested in knowing why rugs are regaining importance. Carpeting is a major investment. A rug which delivers almost the same benefits as wall-to-wall coverage costs less.

Neither a tweed nor a defined pattern, this rug-sized carpet features bright dots of color splashed on a neutral ground.

Smart homemakers know that if they're going to get the longest service from carpeting, quality counts high. And for equal quality, a standard-size rug will cost less than a custom wall-to-wall installation.

Another important feature in the rug's favor is its portability. A rug can be moved from room to room, or from room to home.

When figuring rug sizes, a rule of thumb is to leave a border of uncovered floor no more than eight inches in a small room or 12 inches in a large room. In an open-floor plan, the best proportions for a rug provide for the

"Jacklighting" Deer Not Only Illegal But Can Prove Costly

From the Weekly Newsletter issued by the Pennsylvania Game Commission.

Despite the generally known fact that "jacklighting" deer is illegal here still are persons who must earn the hard way that the practice is not only wrong but costly. Here are two recent incidents that prove the point.

Early in the morning of July 27, Game Protector Ralph Shank and one of his deputies, Alvin Klinger, were on patrol near Tower City, Schuylkill County. At approximately 2:30 a. m. they saw a deer shot and killed by the aid of a spotlight attached to a motor vehicle. The officers intercepted the auto as it left the scene. The driver and occupants of the car were women and children who denied any knowledge of the shooting.

Evidence and information at the scene caused officers Shank and Klinger to place the Tower City residence of the vehicle owner under surveillance. About 5 a. m. they apprehended the owner of the car, husband of the woman driver mentioned, and a male relative from Reinerton, Pa. The Reinerton man was carrying a shotgun at the time. The hands and clothing of both men were blood-stained. Questioned, the suspect admitted shooting from the auto and killing a doe deer as seen by the officers. The accused were arraigned before a Tower City justice of the peace and charged with violation. Each defendant entered a plea of guilty on both counts, and each paid $200 fine, plus costs.

As provided by the Game Law, the vehicle used in the illegal act—a two-door Plymouth convertible—was confiscated in the name of the Commonwealth. Confiscated also were the shotgun and spotlight used in the deer killing. The automobile has been advertised for public sale by auction, as prescribed by law. The firearm and flashlight will be similarly sold.

On the night of August 10, Game Protector Russell Meyer took a position, in a Perry County valley, where he could listen and watch for reported deer shooting. Before long the silence was broken by a rifle shot, farther up the valley. A short time later within approximately 120 yards of the Game Protector an auto stopped. The rays of a spotlight were cast onto a field by someone in the machine. Another shot was fired then the car proceeded toward the officer. Meyer stopped the vehicle and inspected it. In it were two men from Mt. Union, Pa. They possessed a rifle and a spotlight operated off the car battery. A search of the jacklighted area revealed a dying doe deer. The defendants then admitted killing the animal from the car.

The two culprits, given a hearing before a New Bloomfield justice of the peace, were fined $200 each and costs of prosecution. The Buick hardtop sedan and the rifle and spotlight used in the illegal shooting were confiscated. This seized equipment will be sold by the Game Commission in the manner prescribed by law.

In addition to the penalties and losses enumerated in these two cases, each of the four men involved will automatically by law be denied the right to hunt or trap in Pennsylvania for a period of three years.

Brisk Retail Selling of Soft Goods Buys Today's Economy

New York (P)—Brisk retail selling of soft goods buys the economy today while all hands wait to see what the critical month of September has in store for the durable good manufacturers.

Government statistics now being announced mostly have to do with what happened in July. What will be happening this month won't show up in the statistics for a month or six weeks from now.

The first reports this month contradict each other a bit.

Banks report that the public did not withdraw as much spending money for the long Labor Day weekend as expected. And banks that had borrowed from the Federal Reserve System to meet the expected rush for cash found themselves with a lot of this—on which they pay interest—on their hands.

First retail sales reports, on the other hand, look good. Helped by brisk back-to-school buying to outfit a bumper crop of fledgling scholars, store sales in many cities rose above a year ago.

That part of the retail business that handles the big ticket items is less happy and more nervous. Stocks of this year's model cars are higher than at this time last year, September is likely to see quite a scramble among dealers to move them out before the new models move in come October and November.

The new ones seem sure to bear higher price tags. And the finance companies, looking at the higher interest rates they must pay to borrow, are talking about hiking the finance charges on the new cars.

Layoffs here and there in the home appliance manufacturing field speak of sticky sales at the consumer level.

Yet consumers continue to add to the total of installment debt, according to the Federal Reserve Board. Its latest figures are for July and show the debt rising more that month than it did in July 1956, and the total this summer to be 2½ billion dollars higher than last. This form of debt usually finances cars and the big ticket appliances.

Steel production is rising a bit, but steel scrap prices are dropping for lack of interest at the mills. Copper prices have fallen for lack of demand by the manufacturers who use the metal. And the Department of Commerce reports a steady decline in the backlog of unfilled orders of manufacturers—although again the report is for July.

SMART IDEAS IN CANNING FRUIT

1. For flavor variety—use Jack Frost Brown Sugar to replace part of the white sugar in recipe! (½ cup firmly packed brown may be used in place of 1 cup white.)

2. To remove air bubbles—carefully insert a knife down the side of each jar before you seal it!

3. To be sure you get the best preserves—always use quick-dissolving Jack Frost Sugar. It really makes good fruit good-er!

Employment Drop During August Is Revealed In Report

Washington (P)—Employment dropped by 800,000 in August, a considerably greater decline than is normal for the season, the Commerce and Labor departments have announced.

The decrease brought total civilian employment down to 66,400,000 last month, compared with the record high of 67,200,000 in July. There was a decline also in unemployment.

This was because most of the reduction in employment was in temporary agricultural workers—mainly housewives and students—who withdrew from the labor force and did not seek new jobs.

Government statisticians count as unemployed only those who are without jobs and are seeking work.

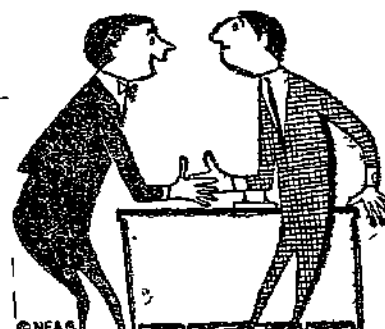

From July to August, unemployment dropped by 400,000 to 2,600,000, as some unemployed persons found nonfarm jobs and students discontinued their search for summertime work.

A joint statement by Secretary of Labor Mitchell and Secretary of Commerce Weeks said the contraction of employment this year was accentuated because of the high level maintained in July.

On the other hand, the increase in nonfarm jobs was "comparatively small in contrast to previous years," they said.

Total nonfarm employment was estimated at 59,600,000. About 250,000 workers were added to factory payrolls over the month, somewhat less than the usual amount.

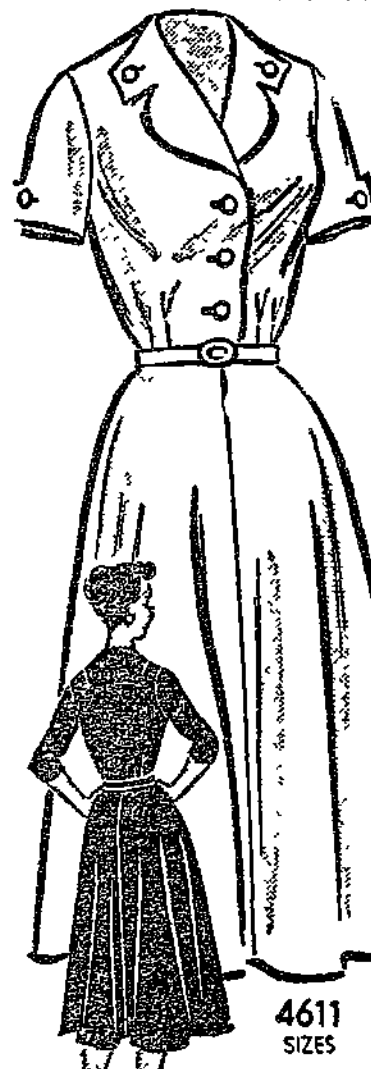

Factory employment was recorded at 16,900,000 in August, with the principal gains occurring in food processing and clothing manufacture.

A BUSINESSMAN often faces the problem of getting rid of a caller who is taking up too much time. One way is to bring the conversation to a close, stand up and say, "I'm glad you stopped by" and shake hands. That may seem a bit abrupt and obvious—but if done with a smile, and a hearty handshake it can do the trick without offending. More subtle reminders often go unnoticed.

Railroads in the State Directed To Give Preference to Paying Passengers Over Free Riders

Harrisburg (P)—The Public Utility Commission has ordered railroads in Pennsylvania to give preference to paying passengers over free riders.

The commission, in an interim order, also called for a 30-day notice by railroad companies of any planned curtailment in passenger service.

The precedent-setting orders were given in the form of supplements to the PUC regulations covering the safety and convenience of the train riding public.

Unless written exceptions to the said passenger preference order are received within the next 15 days, the order will become effective Jan. 1.

The 30-day notice order will be made effective after the 15-day waiting period for filing of objections.

The order also stipulates that free passes for intra-state rides will have to be endorsed as "valid for transportation only and it does not entitle bearer to a seat."

The commission said failure to provide a seat for a paid passenger while a free rider is seated will constitute a violation of the regulations.

The railroads, under the order, will be required to keep accurate records of all free rides in order that the commission can determine at any time the number of such rides given over any period.

Railroads in Pennsylvania always have, and still will be required to obtain PUC approval for total abandonment of passenger train service on any line.

Under present regulations, schedule changes resulting in service curtailment do not require formal advance notice.

Under the proposed regulations, notice of curtailment will be required 30 days in advance and the planned move will have to be posted publicly seven days after filing the proposed schedule change.

The rule will not be applicable to commuter service on runs of less than 35 miles provided the number of trains to be removed constitutes less than 10 per cent of the total operation on any particular run.

Saturday and Sunday trains also will be exempt from the ruling if the average number of passengers normally carried on each train falls below 60 per cent of the weekday load.

Some House Members from Pa. Unhappy Over Congress Record

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
AP Special Washington Service.

Washington (AP)—Some of Pennsylvania's House members appear none too happy over accomplishments of the first session, 85th Congress.

Nevertheless, some were beaming at least over what had been gained in the way of appropriations for public works in the Keystone State.

Leading the list was a one million dollar appropriation to begin work on the proposed flood control dam for the Allegheny River at Kinzua, Pa.—a project that eventually will cost above 100 million dollars to complete.

And there was the congressional and presidential okay for continuing the dredging of the Delaware River above Philadelphia to a depth of 40 feet instead of an interim 35 feet favored by the Budget Bureau.

Comparing notes on what was done and what was left undone, Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) termed the session just ended a typical session.

However, he said time was wasted—"we could have put together what we did in six months instead of eight."

Van Zandt said the "divided government"—with the executive arm led by one political party and legislative by the other—brought only confusion.

"There was too much political maneuvering for position," he said. "And the civil rights legislation and debate are good examples."

Republicans among the Pennsylvania group tended to blame Democratic congressional leadership for failure to accomplish more during the session. Democrats at the same time put the blame on the Republican administration for "failing to provide leadership" and permitting further inflation and a continued rising cost of living.

"Tight money, high interest rates—both are hurting small business, and this could bring a recession," said Rep. Kelley (D-Pa.).

And Kelley, an outspoken critic of administration economic and political policies for some time, laid full blame on the White House for the failure to enact an aid to schools bill.

Looking to the second session in January, Kelley, one of the top-ranking members of the House Education and Labor Committee, said he hopes to see passage of legislation extending the wage and hour law to greater numbers of employees.

Rep. Simpson, chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, said there was too much compromise instead of positive action during the session. Civil rights is an example, Simpson said.

Democrats Speculating That Instrument Flying
Adlai May Be Working Himself Essential State
Into Mood for Third Campaign Official Reminds

By JACK BELL
Washington (P) — Some influential Democrats are speculating that Adlai E. Stevenson may be working himself into a receptive mood toward a third presidential nomination.

Stevenson said last December, after his second defeat by President Eisenhower, "I will not run again for the presidency." He did not embellish this statement.

There is every evidence that at the time Stevenson meant exactly what he said. There is no concrete evidence he has changed his mind since.

He said again Sunday he will not be a candidate in 1960. And he added, under questioning in a television interview, that a suggestion he might be drafted is "preposterous".

But a prominent Democratic senator who was active in Stevenson's 1956 campaign said he has become convinced that unless some other Democrat develops unexpected strength, Stevenson is likely to become available again.

The senator, who asked that his name not be used, mentioned Stevenson's recent six-week tour of Europe and Africa. He said he regards that tour as one of the signs the former candidate is keeping himself abreast of world developments to be ready for anything that might happen in the future.

"He isn't going abroad just because he likes to travel," this senator commented.

The presidential nomination looks very tempting to a number of Democrats now. Eisenhower won't be running. Republicans are squabbling among themselves. These Democrats think 1960 may be the year in which the voters decide it's time for a change again.

All of this means the field is likely to be thick with aspirants—a situation that might have some advantages for Stevenson, who has made a lot of friends among party organization workers.

Everybody reads the Times-Mirror

By BOB HOLTON
Harrisburg (P) — A State Aeronautics Commission official has advised private pilots who lack instruments flying know-how.

"Either learn to use the instruments or stay at home when the weather looks threatening."

John W. MacFarlane, executive director, blamed the "great majority" of private plane accidents in Pennsylvania and the nation on "those non-instrument rated private pilots who over-extend themselves."

Instead of heading for the nearest landing strip when they see bad weather brewing many get cocky and try to fly above the storms or clouds," he said.

"Then when they try to come down they crash into mountains or other barriers because they don't know enough about instrument flying in the blind."

"As long as these fellows continue to over-extend themselves, we will continue to have needless airplane accidents," he added.

Qualified pilots can fly planes with all outside vision cut off by using instruments.

During the first six months of this year there were 90 private plane accidents over Pennsylvania. These crashes killing 11 persons seriously injured 10 more and slightly injured 11.

Commission records show that at this same time last year 7 persons had been killed in 72 private plane accidents in Pennsylvania. The record high accident and air fatality year was 1947 when 57 persons were killed in 240 accidents.

This, the commission attributed to the large number of veterans taking flying lessons under GI benefits.

MacFarlane said Pennsylvania has the best ground system of radio and other communication for instrument flying in the nation.

Viewing Harrisburg

By LEONARD A. UNGER

Harrisburg (P) — The Justice Department is bracing itself for a flood of queries as to just what official state records must now be made available to the public.

The new open records law is written in terms so general that cabinet officers were expected to ask for rulings on problems peculiar to their departments.

Atty. Gen. Thomas D. McBride is expected to say that the law doesn't apply for example, to correspondence conducted by state officials.

Neither will it apply to reports that would disclose that a department is conducting a particular investigation.

By the same token, the report on the final formal decision taken by a state agency also may be ruled to be a public record, especially if it lays the basis for a court appeal.

The attorneys call such a final decision an "adjudication". The laws seems to be fairly specific on that point.

Long-standing secrecy in some areas will be continued. They include corporation tax reports. For many years, they have been considered inviolate to prying eyes. The "confidential" tag will remain on security files in possession of the Justice Department and state police.

It isn't final yet but the Unemployment Compensation Board of Review will probably be forced to identify individuals making appeals in jobless benefits cases.

The identities had been a public matter for many years but during the administration of former Gov. Duff the board decided to list the opinions without giving the names of the persons involved.

It claimed the identity "embarrassed" individuals and newsmen were powerless to break through the curtain except in the most important cases.

Pottsville and Johnstown are the first third class cities in the state to lay the groundwork for calling a referendum in the Nov. 5 general election on the question of writing a new city charter.

The 1957 Legislature authorized third class cities to consider a new form of government in place of the commission-type set up they must now observe. The choice is a council-city manager or a strong mayor-council types of governments.

Pottsville and Johnstown voters will ballot on creation of a charter commission to study the question and make recommendations.

the federal-state deadlock over the integration impasse in Little Rock, Ark. Eisenhower swiftly accepted the Faubus proposal and suggested they confer tomorrow afternoon at Saturday morning. Hagerty was in an obviously an- gry mood when he started today's news conference. He said he and the President had been "listening to some radio and television comment" on the Fau- bus proposal. He said he and Eisenhower had heard "White House aides" being quoted on radio and television as saying Faubus was "throwing in the sponge." Hagerty went on to say they also had heard "a great deal of other junk" on the air. He did not identify the TV and radio newscasts. Hagerty said there are only three White House aides with the President at his vacation head- quarters. He named them as Capt. E. P. Aurand, Eisenhower's naval aide; Wayne Hawks, chief of White House records; and himself. It came out, in response to a question, that Eisenhower as well as Hagerty had heard the radio and TV newscasts to which Hag- erty referred.

Local Talent Appears in Oberammergau Passion Play

During the recent Jaycee-sponsored Oberammergau Passion Play, a considerable number of local thespians had an opportunity to take an active part in this tremen- dous religious spectacle which was well received by Warren audiences. Pictured above is a portion of the local talent taken shortly after the final performance of the Play Tuesday night.

Officials of the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce have expressed their thanks to the Warren Players Club and to the other extras not associated with that Club who volunteered their services so that the Passion Play might appear here.

Many of the Play's scenes required more than fifty extras on stage at one time; and, as it is not possible for the production to carry such a large cast, local talent is recruited in each community where the Play is booked. All leading roles are played by members of the original cast of the Passion Play.

The next project of this nature scheduled by the Jaycees is the annual concert series which has already booked the finest group of artists ever scheduled to appear in Warren in one season.

Baltimore (P)—Admittedly ap- prehensive about what he might have thought of the idea, some of the boys set out to honor H. L. Mencken today on the 77th anni- versary of his birth.

A highlight of the tribute to the late newspaperman, caustic critic and literary scholar was a half- hour television show, including the dedication of a memorial plaque. Inscribed on the plaque were Mencken's name, the dates of his birth and death (Jan. 29, 1896), the work he did "newspaperman, author, editor, critic, philologist" and the epitaph he wrote for him- self in 1951.

Flagman Gets Broken Leg When Hit by Car

Urbanski's machine sustained a $150 dent in its rear, Confer's a $150 dent to its front.

At 7:26 p. m. William N. Ander- son, 26, of 4 Franklin street, was heading north on Wetmore and Joseph Campagna, 19, of 1505 Still street, was proceeding east on Still.

Texas Downed By Culligans In Sizzling Playoff Before Big Crowd on West Side Field

In a sensational battle before one of the two largest crowds of the season at the West Side diamond, last evening, Culligans took a 1-0 edge in the Warren City Softball League's championship playoff round by defeating Texas Lunch by a score of 8 to 5.

A scoreless duel for five innings between Ken Sorenson and Bob Harrison suddenly erupted into a slugfest in the sixth. With each pitcher breezing along on a one-hitter the Soft Water boys got to Harrison for one run in the top of the sixth on a walk to Bud Berdine and a single by Chick Stewart.

This run looked mighty big for a few minutes but it didn't hold up for long. In the last of the sixth Texas sent eight men to bat and scored four runs. Two hits, a walk and a fielder's choice loaded the bases. Then Bill Brown a long grand slam homer into left field to make it 4-1.

Then Culligans staged a sensational rally to score seven runs in the seventh by sending eleven men to the plate. Monk Carlson started it off with a double, followed by singles Schenk and Madigan. Manager Rex Graham then went to the bench and called on the powerful Paul Pollock. With the count 2 to 2, the big pinch hitter slammed a double to left center to drive in the runs and close the gap to 4-3. Then a fielder's choice and a sacrifice fly by Berdine netted another tally to tie it up. Stewart reached first on an error, stole second. With runners on second and third, Bill Massa lined a single to center to drive in both runners, went all the way to third on an error and scored on a sacrifice fly by Ned Bartholomew.

The two teams resume the best of five series with the second game scheduled for Monday night at the West Side.

Noticeable Absence Of Solid Favorites In National Amateur

Brookline, Mass. (AP)—The golf experts who predicted that Harvie Ward's suspension from amateur competition would make the 57th National Amateur Championship the most evenly contested in years apparently were absolutely right.

There wasn't a solid favorite in the field when the tournament began Monday and there still wasn't one today when 16 survivors moved into another double round of eliminations. That was quite a change from the past two years when the first question was "Who will be playing Harvie in the final?"

Ward, the winner for the past two years, was put on probation early this summer for violation of the rules regarding expense payments.

One of the two players he beat for his titles, Chuck Kocsis, remained in the field today, when two 18-hole rounds were to reduce it to the four semi-finalists. Among the others were one ex-champion, Madigan, 3b, a four member of the 1957 U. S. Walker Cup team, one visiting Briton and a rather odd assortment of others including only three real outsiders.

The solid choices to be around for the 36-hole semi-finals Friday were Dr. Bud Taylor, the sweet-swinging dentist from Pomona, Calif.; Dick Yost, a tall, strong 27-year-old who now lives in Portland, Ore.; Dick Chapman, the wealthy estate executor from Oosterville, Mass., and Pinehurst, N. C., who has held both the U. S. and British amateur championships; Hillman Robbins, a lean Air Force lieutenant from Memphis, Tenn.; Kocsis; and Rex Baxter Jr., a solidly built 21-year-old Texan.

Welterweight Fight In Chicago Ends In a Free-For-All

Chicago (AP)—The best fight at Chicago Stadium last night could have been between a trainer and a referee.

As it was, Larry Baker, eighth-ranked welterweight from New York, wound up restraining his handler, Jack Friday, from going after Referee Bernard Weissman.

This all happened after Baker lost to Vince Martinez, No. 4 contender from Paterson, N. J., on a technical knockout in the ninth round.

After seven dull rounds, the national TV audience who stayed with it and the 1,108 ringsiders who groaned through it, got a treat.

Martinez caught Baker with a terrific left to the face in the eighth. Baker staggered into a corner under a fusillade of rights and left with a vicious cut near his right eye pouring blood.

Weissman stepped between them Martinez apparently thought the fight had been stopped. But Weissman quickly looked at Baker's eye and moved away.

Baker, no longer reeling, tore after Martinez. In the center of the ring he caught him with a looping right. Martinez's legs buckled and he was forced groggily into a corner. Baker smashed him at will, but the bell sounded before Martinez could be chopped down.

Between rounds, Dr. Irving Slott of the Illinois Athletic Commission inspected Baker's eye. He told the referee to stop the fight. Baker was not permitted to come out of his corner for the ninth, losing his first fight in his last dozen starts.

Friday, a bulbous man, angrily rushed towards Weissman. Baker stood in front of him, holding him back until he cooled off.

Dragon Coach Announces the Probable Lineup For Potato Festival Game With Beavers

Dragon football coach Ralph Veights said today "I am not optimistic about the schedule but I am for the outcome of the new 'T' formation." Veights explained that he is pleased with the Dragons and that "We have a long way to go yet, but we'll be getting better and better with each game."

Probable starting lineup for Friday's "Potato Festival" game with the Beavers at Corry, will be Bill Brumagin and Don McKelvey (Juniors), ends; Jim Olson (Junior) and Jim Wick (Sophomore), tackle; toss for guard between Jim Miller (Junior), Dave Sedwick and Tom Gerarde (Seniors); Bill Mervine (Junior), Lou Mascaro (Junior), quarterback; Jack Suppa (Senior), Kelly McCool and Bob Haslet (Juniors), halfbacks; and Connie Altman (Senior), fullback.

This will be the seventh annual potato festival grid game. It will be played on Corry field and game time is scheduled for 8:30 p. m. It is an annual event in conjunction with the Corry Potato Festival which concluded last Saturday.

This year the highly-rated Warren Dragons have been selected to participate in the event, first home game for the Beavers. The victorious team will be awarded a large trophy which will be a permanent award, and in addition will be recognized as the 1957-58 Potato Bowl champions.

The award will be presented immediately following the game and marks will be made by Olin Macken, Chamber of Commerce president, and Miss Jacqueline Ark, newly-elected Potato Festival Queen.

Corry Evening Journal reports that the Beavers spent two and a half hours after school sharpening up on defense while running through some offensive passing plays, yesterday being their last afternoon practice sessions.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Pitching — Sal Maglie, Yankee, gained his first American League victory with a three-hitter that defeated his former Cleveland mates 5-0, but Indians then gained a split in the day-night double-header as Ray Narleski's four-hitter defeated the champs 4-1.

Hitting — Hank Foiles, Pirates, went 3-for-3 as No. 3 man in the batting order, driving in both runs with a home run and ninth-inning single that defeated the Braves 2-1 and halted Warren Corry's winning streak at nine.

Canadian Girl Foiled Trying To Swim Erie

Erie (P) — A 21-year-old Canadian girl attempting to swim Lake Erie to Canada was pulled from the water at 11:45 p. m. EDT yesterday, just six miles from her goal, an Erie boat owner reported.

Miss Gerda Olsson, of Simcoe, Ontario, was taken from the water six hours and 49 minutes after leaving Erie for Long Point, Ontario.

It was estimated she covered 19 miles before suffering stomach cramps.

Majors' Invasion of Coast May Wind Up in the Courts

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

SAN FRANCISCO—(NEA)—Leslie M. O'Connor is shocked at the way baseball has degenerated into a disorganized, do-as-you-please business.

O'Connor, the Pacific Coast League president, perhaps knows more about the inner workings of baseball than any other individual. For 24 years he was secretary-treasurer of baseball and the interim commissioner between Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis and Happy Chandler.

And he, along with the Coast League's independent owners, finds himself like a man tripping down his stairs for breakfast bright and early in the morning only to find the house littered with interior decorators and a couple of people who introduce themselves as the new owners of a home he hadn't put up for sale. And they don't like it.

"ASTONISHING AS IT may seem, all I know about the Giants and Dodgers moving to San Francisco and Los Angeles is what I have read in the newspapers," said O'Connor, in his offices in the Flood Building.

"Nobody has had the decency or courtesy to contact me or any of our independent owners. I wanted to protect our independent owners, so I wrote Commissioner Frick. All I got was a note to the effect that inasmuch as the commissioner would be on the board of arbitration, he did not feel at liberty to participate actively in any discussion of the franchise switches."

"I wrote Warren Giles and pointed out that it was the contemplated moving of two of his league's franchises which created our extraordinary situation. I asked, 'If you take the territory, could you suggest a way to make it possible for us to continue to operate?' Giles has not replied to my letter."

"When Horace Stoneham visited San Francisco, he didn't even bother to give me a ring on the telephone. I guess he didn't consider it was necessary."

"SOMEBODY IS GOING to have to pay money for this," stresses Attorney O'Connor who for years policed baseball as Commissioner Landis' right hand man. "This is an entire league they are dealing with."

"Baseball law reads that in the drafting of territory the other clubs are entitled to just and reasonable compensation."

With San Francisco and Los Angeles out, O'Connor cannot see much hope for the Pacific Coast League.

"The clubs in the north could get together, but San Diego would be left stranded in the south," he points out. "Realigning a league out here isn't nearly as easy as it is in the east or middle west. Here, you run out of towns."

"THESE MAJOR LEAGUE MOVES are considerably different than the previous ones. Lou Perini owned the Milwaukee American Association franchise when he moved the Braves there. The Yankees owned the Kansas City franchise when the Athletics moved there."

"But here we have five franchises owned by independent people, who practically are told to step down a few grades in their baseball business."

You gather that the sponsors of these five clubs might violently object to the Giants and Dodgers moving into their territory without as much as asking permission.

These men, all wealthy, aren't used to being kicked around and could—and well may—stir up a lot of trouble in a civil court.

Second Place Cards Staging a Spurt That Menaces Milwaukee

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Is that a miracle or a mirage taking shape in the National League pennant race?

A miracle finish, such as the New York Giants staged in 1955, is like a tango. It takes two. Even a spirited spring down the stretch, such as the Giants' 87-7 drive six years ago, won't bring a payoff unless the leader collapses, as did the Brooklyn Dodgers when they lost 23 of their last 49 and then blew it all to the Giants in the three-game pennant playoff.

That's the situation in the NL race now. The second-place St. Louis Cardinals have won seven of their last eight while Milwaukee's

The Cards stayed with it last night, battering Philadelphia 14-6 and climbing within 4½ games of the Braves, who were dropped 2-1 by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The New York Yankees split a Cleveland, O. Sal Maglie tossed day-night double-header against a three-hitter that beat his former Tribe mates 5-0 in the opener, but Ray Narleski then set down the Yankees on four hits in Cleveland's 4-1 nightcap victory.

That left the champs with a 5½-game lead over Chicago's second-place White Sox, who scored three in the 11th and beat Boston 4-1.

Third-place Brooklyn, seven games behind Milwaukee, defeated the Chicago Cubs 9-1 in the only NL game scheduled.

In the other AL games, a pair of two-night double-headers, Detroit swept Washington 3-0 and 12-2, and Baltimore split with Kansas City, winning 6-2 after a 7-3 defeat.

Right-hander Ron Kline won his sixth in a row with a six-hitter. Andy Pafko, who homered in the second, and Del Rice had four of the Braves' hits.

Maglie, the 40-year-old right-hander Cleveland snubbed as "just another guy" after buying him
